About this...

Use this function to generate reports of selected graduate students. Begin by limiting the list of students by selecting a department, major, or track. By default, the report will only include active students, but inactive students may be included by clicking the checkbox. By default, the report will include student name, major, and degree level. Use the [Add Column] function to select additional information for the report. Use the [Add Filter] function to add additional conditions to the row selection. If multiple filters are selected, all must be true for a student row to be included in the report.
