

BROADENING ACCESS TO A GLOBAL EDUCATION

We believe that funding shouldn't be a barrier to education.

Founded in 2007, Prodigy Finance is on a mission to make quality education accessible, using financial technology to redefine the loan market. We provide education loans to top international graduate students.

Our loan model eliminates the need for your students to have a co-signer, U.S credit history, or collateral. This means we can lend to many students who lack access to other sources of funding.

THE PRODIGY FINANCE ADVANTAGE

We're committed to broadening access for global students to the world's best education programs.

When your students lack access to savings or scholarships, our no co-signer loans mean aspiring students can fund their studies independently.

WHO DO WE LEND TO?

We support masters students across business, engineering, science, law, and public policy. The number and types of programs we support is constantly growing as we gain access to new funding sources, as well as address the global demand for job growth in specific sectors.
