Biometric Voice Identification Software for TOEFL® Testing

- Uses statistical pattern-matching techniques, advanced voice classification methods and input from multiple systems to compare speech samples from TOEFL® test takers
- Offers ability to create voice prints for detailed analysis to validate TOEFL test takers’ identity
- Introduced in 2012 for test security investigations
- New! Since February 8, 2014, now used on all test takers worldwide before scores are released
Biometric voice identification is used to detect impersonation in three ways

1. Repeat test takers
   – Compare voiceprints with speech samples across multiple administrations for the same test center

2. Potential impersonators within a test center
   – Compare voiceprints with speech samples for all candidates at a given test center

3. Known impersonators within a group
   – Compare voiceprints with speech samples of known imposters to all candidates within a suspect group
Constantly Enhancing Security Measures

Now

• In January 2014, implemented security wanding in all TOEFL® test centers around the world

In the Future

• Currently working with the Chinese government administrator of the TOEFL test to implement facial recognition capabilities using the new second-generation National ID card
Brazil Scientific Mobility Program (formerly Science Without Borders)

• The Brazil Scientific Mobility Program (BSMP) is a one-year, non-degree program for Brazilian students to study abroad and part of a larger initiative to grant 100,000 scholarships.

• ETS continues to collaborate with the U.S. and Brazilian governments to coordinate plans and schedules to provide access to TOEFL® and GRE® testing for scholarship applicants.
Opportunity for Graduate Programs

- Brazilian Government opened a scholarship call on May 23, 2014, for Ph.D. study in the U.S.
- Government hopes to issue 1,500 scholarships
- Students required to submit GRE® and TOEFL® scores by August 22, 2014, or submit evidence that they are registered for the exam
- LASPAU is processing the applications for the Ministry

2013 was the second highest year in GRE history, with GRE global volumes reaching 731,000.

Some notable trends in 2013 compared to 2012 include:

- GRE volumes in India increased by more than 70 percent, recording annual GRE volumes greater than 90,000 from that region alone.
- International GRE volumes increased by about 30 percent.
- GRE volumes in Asia were up more than 35 percent.
- The intended graduate major fields of study that experienced the most significant growth in 2013 include Business (36 percent), Engineering (31 percent) and Natural Sciences (21 percent).

Mid-2014 Update: The timing for registrations in the 2014 peak testing period is a little slower than 2013, but appears to be on track for annual volumes.
This GRE publication helps higher education professionals get a more in-depth understanding of the composition of GRE test takers during the most recently completed testing year.

- 534,761 unique test takers who took the GRE® revised General Test between July 1, 2012 and June 30, 2013
- Includes only those who had valid scores on all three measures
- Based on unique test takers, meaning data analysis includes test taker’s most recent scores only, even if they took the test more than once during that period

New Computer-Based Locations

• Background
  – The GRE® revised General Test is offered in about 200 countries/regions and administered through more than 850 test centers around the world.
  – The computer-based test is offered in most world regions.
  – The paper-based test is offered in regions where the computer-based test is not available in order to provide access to the test.
    o Less than 1% of all General Tests are paper-based

• In 2014–15, we will be adding computer-based testing in 30 locations where paper-based testing was previously offered.
  Computer-based testing offers:
  – Faster score reporting turnaround, which should help the admissions process
  – More opportunities for individuals to test throughout the year

GRE® and TOEFL® Announcement
New ETS Portal — Coming Soon

ETS will be introducing a special online portal just for official GRE® and TOEFL® score users.

The portal can be used by approved individuals to access GRE or TOEFL score information, test taker data, special reports and more.

This tool allows for fast and convenient viewing capabilities, test-taker lookup information and easy data manipulation, all designed to enhance your current admissions flow and complement the traditional GRE and TOEFL score reporting services.
ETS Portal Capabilities

• The ETS Portal will enable score users to:
  – Access GRE® data, TOEFL® data or both via the same user name and password
    o Scores will not be combined for candidates on the same report
  – View individual score reports online
  – View and download rosters of test takers, including score data
  – Download score reports or score report data in multiple formats (including Microsoft® Excel)
  – Access electronic score report files, without requiring PGP encryption
  – View test-taker photos
  – View GRE Analytical Writing responses
  – Create predetermined and customized summary data reports (2015)
Safeguarding Data

CGS Sneak Preview Announcement!

• Maintaining data integrity and test-taker privacy is very important to ETS and we know it is important to you too.
• Institutions can view only score data from test takers who have designated that their institution receive that information.
• Institutions can designate lead administrators and secondary user(s) who will have access to data.
  – Lead administrator: Access to all data available to that institution; will also manage secondary users at their institution
  – Secondary user: Have access to data that the lead administrator provides permission to access
• Institutions may have multiple lead administrators (e.g., undergraduate, graduate, business schools).
Based on feedback from the GRE® and TOEFL® Boards as well as focus groups of higher educational professionals, we will contact Deans of graduate and business schools to request that they identify the Lead Administrator(s).

- In late 2014, you should expect to see an email to the Dean of the graduate or business school describing the portal and the role of the Lead Administrator, and requesting that you identify a Lead Administrator whom ETS will contact.

- A communication will also be sent to the current score recipient describing the portal and informing him/her that we sent a letter to the Dean requesting the identification of a Lead Administrator.
ETS Portal

CGS Sneak Preview Announcement!

• The capabilities available in the new ETS Portal have been carefully developed through input of GRE® and TOEFL® score users in order to provide an even more efficient and dynamic way of accessing and utilizing GRE and TOEFL scores in the admissions process.
